

HOLLYWOOD

Made in China

AYNNE
KOKAS

Dr. Aynne Kokas is an assistant professor of media studies at the University of Virginia. Her book Hollywood Made in China was published in early 2017 with the University of California Press.

Thursday, April 20

2-3:20pm

Washington Hall 201

5-6:20pm

Washington Hall 307

Hollywood Made in China

This talk examines the cultural, political and economic implications of US media investment in China as it becomes the world's largest film market. This talk will discuss how the growth of China's media market is transforming Hollywood from the inside out. Dr. Kokas will give the same talk twice.

Presented by the Chinese Program, College of William and Mary
Contact: Calvin Hui (kchui@wm.edu) or Chun-yu Lu (clu02@wm.edu)

Supported by WMCI

